CONDITIONS OF SALE.

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer. If any dispute arise the Auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to settle it; and to put any disputed lot up again.
- II. No person to advance less than 1s.; above five pounds 2s. 6d.; and so on in proportion.
- III. All lots are sold subject to the right of the seller or his agent to bid, or else to impose a reserve.
- IV. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and, if required, to pay down 10s. in the pound in part payment of the purchase-money, in default of which the lot or lots purchased to be immediately put up again and re-sold.
- V. The lots to be taken away, at the buyer's expense, immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which Messrs. SOTHEY & Co. will not hold themselves responsible if lost, stolen, damaged, or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser. If at the expiration of one week after the conclusion of the sale, the books or other property are not cleared or paid for, they will then be catalogued for immediate sale, and the expenses, the same as if re-sold, will be added to the amount at which the books were bought. Messrs. SOTHEY & Co. will have the option of re-selling the lots uncleared, either by public or private sale, without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- VI. All the books are presumed to be perfect, unless otherwise expressed; but if, upon collating, any should prove defective, the purchaser will be at liberty to take or reject them, provided they are received back within Fourteen Days after the conclusion of the sale, when the purchase-money will be returned.
- VII. The sale of any book or books is not to be set aside on account of any worm holes, stained, or short leaves of text or plates, want of list of plates or blank leaves, or on account of the publication of any subsequent volume, supplement, appendix, or plates. All the manuscripts, autographs, all magazines and reviews, all books in lots, and all tracts in lots or volumes, will be sold with all faults, imperfections and errors of description. The sale of any illustrated book, lot of prints or drawings, is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the numbers stated, or error of description.
- VIII. No Imperfect Book will be taken back, unless a note accompanies each book, stating its imperfections, with the number of lot and date of the sale at which the same was purchased.
- IX. To prevent inaccuracy in the delivery, and inconvenience in the settlement of the purchases, no lot can on any account be removed during the time of sale.
- X. Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money required and deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited; and if any loss is sustained in the re-selling of such lots as are not cleared or paid for, all charges on such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulters at this sale.

Messrs. SOTHEY & Co. are prepared to advise intending purchasers, as far as possible, and will execute bids on their behalf, free of charge. Lots will be procured as cheaply as is permitted by other bids or reserves, if any.

* A VERY FINE LETTER FROM BOSWELL TO BENNET LANGTON (4 pp. 4to) IS INSERTED, dated from London, 27 August, 1790. The signature has been cut away removing two or three words of text.
- " . . . I have been driven about not very pleasingly, having been suddenly hurried away by Lord Lonsdale to do duty as Recorder of Carlisle where I was kept . . . a prisoner . . . which vexed me the more, that the progress of my Life of Johnson was in some degree retarded, though Mr. Malone was so very kind as to superintend the press in my absence . . . My difficulty is in leaving London, while my Life of Johnson is in the press. It will be a much larger work than was calculated. I was very desirous (sic) to confine it within one quarto volume, though it should be a very thick one; but I now find that it must be two, and these more than 550 pages each. I have printed as yet only 456; but am next week to put on two compositors, so as to advance in a double ratio . . . My visit to you might be deferred till the conclusion of my Magnum Opus," etc.
- [See REPRODUCTION on next page.]
- 97 Bouchot (H.) Les Reliures d'Art à la Bibliothèque Nationale, one of 10 copies on papier du Japon, brown morocco, line panel tooling on sides, panelled back, g. t. 8vo. Paris, Ed. Rouveyre, 1888

I have a very great desire to be with you at Oxford, and your most kind

kind invitation to accomodate both me and my daughter in your house warms my heart; for in truth there is very little of such cordiality to be experienced. My difficulty is in leaving London, while my life of Johnson is in the press. It will be a much larger work than was calculated.
I was very desirous to confine it within one quarto volume, though it should be a very thick one; but I now find that it must be two, and these more than 550 pages each. I have printed as yet only 456; but in next week to put on two compositors, so as to advance in a double ratio.

- 105 BROWNE (SIR T.) CERTAIN MISCELLANY TRACTS, portrait, IN A FINE CONTEMPORARY ENGLISH BINDING, red morocco, elaborately gilt and painted to a "cottage" design, gilt back, five bands, g. e.; sold as a binding and not subject to return; IN FINE CONDITION
8vo (7 in. by 4½ in.) London, Printed for Charles Mearn, Bookseller to his most Sacred Majesty, 1683
-  This binding was executed by the binder of Pepys' copy of "The Whole Art of Navigation," London, 1685, now at Magdalene College, Cambridge (see Mr. G. D. Hobson's "Bindings in Cambridge Libraries," p. 162 and plate LXVII). Not only is the pattern practically identical but the end-papers of the two books have the same water-mark R D T I in roman capitals. It is now well known that neither Samuel Mearne, nor Charles, his son, the publisher of this book, was a binder.
This volume was sold at Wellington Street, 3rd June, 1902.

  This copy belonged to Charles Lamb, who has written an extract from Fuller's Worthies on the fly-leaf to vol. I, and another extract on p. 246. He has also made some corrections in the text.
 The volumes were lent by him to Coleridge, who returned them with two long signed notes on the fly-leaves to vol. II and many marginal notes to that volume.
 "Tuesday Feb. 10. 1808. Dear Charles—I think more highly, far more, of the "Civil wars," than you seemed to do, on Monday night, Feb. 9th. 1808—the verse does not teize me; and all the while I am reading it, I cannot but fancy a plain England-loving English Country Gentleman with only some dozen books in his whole Library, and at a time when a "Mercury" or "Intelligencer" was seen by him once in a month or two, making this his newspaper or political Bible . . ."
 Second letter of five hours after the first.
 Dear Charles—You must read over these Civil Wars again. We both know what a mood is. And the genial mood will, it shall come, for my sober-minded Daniel . . . S. T. Coleridge. O Charles! I am very, very ill. Vixi.

Choice of a Religion" published by Digby at Paris in 1638, of which only one copy is recorded (British Museum). The printed book, however, has neither the name of the author nor the recipient.

The "Viscountess Purbeck," for whom this treatise was written was Frances, daughter of Sir Edward Cope, wife of Sir John Villiers, Viscount Purbeck. The treatise commences "Madame, My being conscious to myselfe how confusedly and intricately I have delivered my conceptions unto yr. Lap. upon the severall occasions of discourse we have had together concerning that important subject . . . hath begotten this following discourse."

- 253 HEURES (LES) DV CHRESTIEN, divisées en trois Iovtnées, IN A VERY FINE CONTEMPORARY PARISIAN BINDING, sides decorated with interlacing fillets outlined on one side by a single, on the other by a double gold line and forming irregular geometrical compartments filled with elaborate arabesque and spiral decoration au pointillé, panelled back decorated with au pointillé tooling, tooled and painted edges; sold as a binding and not subject to return

Svo (180 mm. by 120 mm.) Paris, chez Seb. Martin, 1654

 A very fine binding of the type usually (but incorrectly) assigned to Le Gascon, who is known to have been working 30 years earlier and probably never used pointillé tools. It may, however, be the work of Florimond Badier, who was working as late as 1659. The design with a broken pediment at head and foot should be noted as an interesting anticipation of the English "Cottage" designs.

This volume was sold at Wellington Street, 25 May, 1900. A very similar binding belonging to Dr. H. M. Davies was sold in these rooms on 3rd June, 1929, lot 182 (illustrated in the catalogue).

8vo (7 in. by $4\frac{7}{16}$ in.) London: for William Marshall, 1700

 Black leather bindings of this pattern with yellow and red inlays seem to have been common about 1700. Cf. one with the name of the original owner "Charles Oxley" on the back which was sold at Wellington Street, 13th July, 1908 (lot 59); another was in the Corfield collection (sold 21st Nov. 1904, lot 24), and another was exhibited at the Burlington Fine Arts Club in 1891 (plate LXXXVII).

NONE OF THESE VOLUMES HAS THE PECULIAR BACK ARRANGED AND GILDED TO RESEMBLE THE FRONT, AND THIS IS A VERY RARE FEATURE. It is, however, found in Edward VI's copy of Bembo's "Historiae Venetae," 1552 (reproduced by C. Davenport, "Thomas Berthelet," pl. I, and by Fletcher in "English Bindings in the B.M." pl. 15). Mr. Davenport in his notes on that volume states that he has met with a few similar specimens of later date and of Italian work. Inside this volume is a note from Mr. Davenport commenting on the rarity of the type, another example of which is offered for sale in this catalogue. (See lot 90).

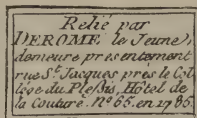

This volume was offered for sale at Wellington Street, 3rd April, 1900 (stock of H. S. Nichols and Co.).
